

MAY BE ABLE TO CHECK MAGOON

Supervisors Take Up Question of His Thomas Square
Tenement.

WILL PREVENT IF ABLE

Quinn Reports a School Which Has Only Japanese Flag to Celebrate With.

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)

The city attorney's department will take up the question of the right of J. A. Magoon to erect a Chinese store and rooming house at King and Kaplan streets opposite Thomas Square, this matter having been referred by the board of supervisors at its meeting last night. The entire question of tenement houses, an ordinance bearing on that subject passed sometime ago and the proposed building ordinance to be considered by the city attorney arriving at an opinion which will be submitted to the board at an early session.

Supervisor McClellan brought the question into discussion last night by stating that residents in the vicinity of Thomas Square had asked him to ascertain if there was any way in which Magoon could be prevented from finishing the two-story frame structure now in progress of erection. Mr. McClellan had no definite plan of action to suggest, but stated that so far the plumbing permit had not been issued, although the builders had gone ahead with their work without waiting for it.

Deputy City Attorney Milverton stated that there was no way to stop the construction work unless it could be shown that the building is to be used as a tenement, and a tenement is a building consisting of at least four rooms wherein three families dwell. If the building is being used as a tenement work can be stopped, or if up, the building can be removed.

Will Fix King Street.

Chairman Quinn of the road committee presented a large number of reports on road work. One of these referring to King street, criticized the road supervisor severely. The report was accepted. The report follows:

Your committee on roads, bridges, parks and public improvements, beg leave to report that King street from the center of the government wharfery to Alapai street is in a terrible, rough and uneven condition. This street was built not a great many months ago, but it is proven a very bad piece of work. There is not a day nor an hour in the day but what your committee is not waited upon by citizens of all classes who are compelled to travel on the roads in automobiles, buggies, carts or drays, complaining about the terrible condition of said street. The newspapers of this city have called the attention of your road committee to the wretched conditions.

We would therefore recommend that the asphaltum covering which in some places is eight inches thick, and in some places none at all, be removed. It can be easily removed without damaging the under part of the road, then sprinkle it with a very light top-dressing and when rolled, said road, we think, would be in a first-class condition for several months. This work can be done at a small cost.

We recommend that this work be started within ten days as there is more traffic on King street than any other street in Honolulu.

To Widen Nuuanu Avenue.

Quinn's report on Nuuanu avenue was prefaced with the statement that there were hundreds of Hawaiians and Portuguese and Chinese living in Nuuanu Valley who needed a good road for walking, and they needed the rapid transit which is to be extended from the mauka to the Country Club road. His report was adopted unanimously and as soon as possible the county will proceed to widen that thoroughfare. The report follows:

In regard to a petition from several propertyowners and residents from Nuuanu Valley, relative to the widening of Nuuanu street from the mauka to the Country Club road, your committee on roads, bridges, parks and public improvements, after investigating same, beg leave to report that the Rapid Transit and Land Company propose to extend their line as far up Nuuanu as the old Queen Emma's place. The rapid transit people inform the committee that they can not commence said work until about the first of November, as the materials, rails, ties, etc., have been ordered and will not arrive in Honolulu until about that time. The property owners along said road, with but one exception, are willing to give their lands to the city and county free of charge, providing the city and county curbs said avenue and moves the fences back. There are a great many places already curbed and the majority of the places do not require any fences as they are already on the proper line. The curbing and moving of fences therefore will not cost the city and county a great deal of money. It will be a benefit to the general public as well as the residents of that district to have a good driveway.

We recommend that the city and county engineer complete the survey of said street which we understand it is about finished, with the

HUMANE SOCIETY WOULD END MISERY OF LAME HORSE

Considerable indignation is being expressed in human society circles over the fact that a horse said to be seriously and chronically lame for the past six years should have been turned back to its owner to be worked after a humane society officer yesterday had had the case brought into court. The horse in question is the property of Captain Soule, the attention of the humane officer being called to its condition on Monday afternoon. The horse, according to this officer, was in such condition that it could not be forced out of a walk while being driven to the police station.

At the trial yesterday, Doctor Nordgard, territorial veterinarian, was called to the stand, his testimony being to the effect that the horse was in good enough condition to be kept for light work and for breeding purposes. Judge Andrade based his decision on this evidence.

The humane officers are not satisfied, however, and some members are recalling the suspected hostility that the territorial veterinarian bears towards the society and its work. It is stated that in revenge for a complaint made by a humane society officer that Nordgard treated his own horse inhumanly, he (Nordgard) wanted to seize the humane officer's pony to destroy it as a gandered animal. Other veterinarians who were called in stated that the animal had not the first sign of the disease.

It is probable that the society will carry the case of the Soule horse further, to make a test whether animals apparently as lame as this one are to be allowed to live and suffer for the sake of a few years of whatever work they may be able to do.

understanding that the street is to be fifty feet wide and four-foot sidewalk; and that the city and county engineer furnish to the propertyowners, when requested, their proper street grades and width in the City and County of Honolulu as such as the Rapid Transit and Land Company starts to lay their track.

Reports on Thoroughfares.

The road committee, by its chairman, reported that the committee has had in mind the building of a road on the Waiialua side of Waimea gulch wherein the city engineer has negotiated with the O. R. & L. Co., for the right of way of said road, the company also agreeing to remove the loose rocks along the cut which will make a saving to the county. At the present time the road is very steep and very difficult to negotiate in wet weather. It is also very dangerous, as people, wagons and autos, would have to cross the railroad track twice in a very short distance. The proposed new cut will eliminate the railroad crossings entirely.

The city engineer was instructed to proceed with negotiations with the railroad company and the road supervisor of Waiialua district is also instructed to build the road as soon as he has finished with the work at Waiialua.

The committee recommended and the board approved of the suggestion that in the very near future Hotel street from Alakea to Nuuanu be scarified and a light material added when necessary. The committee also recommended that no oil be put on the street at the present time. Bethel street is to be treated in the same manner. In regard to a petition of J. A. Rath of Palama relative to the disposition of garbage, the committee, after investigating same, reported that in some instances people boxes that the garbage men could not put them in the wagons. The committee stated that the garbage department is only intended to remove light garbage and rubbish. The superintendent of garbage is instructed to give the best service possible.

A report was made on a complaint of P. J. Testa relative to poor trimming of trees and burning of some along the Leialua road in Waiaina district. The matter has been referred to the road supervisor of that district.

The committee reported that a curbing and retaining wall will be put in along property owned by R. F. Dillingham on Alexander street according to agreement.

Mayor Fern asked that Fern Lane be repaired and this will be done.

Some Rotten Schoolhouses.

The request of a committee of $15 per month during school vacation time for a luna to supervise small gangs of prisoners who will clean up the school yards, plant grass and such, caused some discussion relative to the condition of some schoolhouses. Mr. Logan reported that some school buildings, which the board of education wished to condemn, have been put in repair. Supervisor Ahia wanted some repairs and an extra building attached to the present Manoa school building, but Mr. Logan said the whole building was so rotten it would be a mistake to attempt to repair it. It was stated also that some one wanted to exchange land for the school site so the school could be located elsewhere in the valley. The luna salary was voted.

It was reported that Sheriff Jarrett wanted a police box put in at Doctor Mackall's office. The matter was referred to committee.

Koko Head Matter.

The city attorney stated, in an opinion, that the board could proceed with the alteration of Koko Head avenue, Kaimuki. He had seen Mr. Douthitt, a resident on that avenue, and suggested to him, in order to avoid any possibility of litigation, the special proceedings which the board wished to take and the residents could institute proceedings and be understood that such action will be taken.

The city attorney also stated that he doubted whether the board had power to borrow money, as for instance, $1100 to build 2000 feet of road in Palolo Valley, the money to be furnished by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company. He suggested the road could be built on tenders and the contractor paid toward the end of the present term of office of the board.

Music Lanai Offends.

The lanai in Captain Berger's premises where his musicians of the Hawaiian band practise for concerts, projects into a part of the Coney property and the board was asked by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, as agents for the Coney estate, to remove it from their property. The city engineer was instructed to remove the lanai from the fence line.

The superintendent of public works informed the board he had secured enough land at Nuuanu avenue and Kukui lane to widen Nuuanu avenue at that point.

A fire box will be placed at Second and South streets. This is near the iron works section. It was stated that such a box is necessary. Should the iron works, for instance, burn down, it would result in great loss to the iron works people, but, also, hundreds of people would be thrown out of employment.

Dr. Chas. Paul Durney, physician at Kahuku, was appointed sanitary, milk, food and meat inspector for Kahuku and Koolauloa districts without compensation.

The sum of $740 was allowed for jail improvement.

McClellan reported progress on the building ordinance.

J. S. Kalakala, for other petitioners, asked for improvements to Jack lane, Nuuanu. If improvements are to be made the Bishop Estate will give a strip fifteen feet, which will make a thirty-foot roadway.

Kaanaa School needs an American flag, so Quinn reported. He stated that he only thing long ago there was a Japanese flag. The present Stars and Stripes have been worn out in the wind and rain.

SITE PROBLEM DELAYS BUILDING

Five-Story McNerny Block Will Not Be Begun Until the Federal Building Is.

Plans for the erection of the McNerny block at King and Bishop streets, opposite the Young building, are at present held up, awaiting a decision on the Mahuka site question.

W. H. McNerny and the McNerny interests have planned to raze the old Way block and erect on that site a four or five story block, depending largely upon the requirements of prospective tenants, both for stores and offices. There was a strong probability of construction work commencing on the block this year, but Mr. McNerny states definitely that no operations will be started until the Mahuka site is entirely settled. The block will cost from $65,000 to $100,000 and will be modern in every respect and in keeping, in its ornamentation, with the buildings surrounding.

Mr. McNerny is not in favor of the public building taking in the entire block bounded by King, Fort, Merchant and Bishop streets, believing its location there will be a detriment to retail business. He is thoroughly of the belief that Fort street should remain untouched by the federal building proposition.

"In almost any other city, wherever the public building is located, particularly if it adorns the center of a block, it is a rendezvous on Saturdays for the crowds of Japanese and Chinese waitresses, as they do now at the Judiciary building grounds. To establish the federal building on the whole block means the removal of a valuable block of the retail section, a section which we need very much."

"If the federal building takes in the entire block—that is, the center, leaving a space all around for lawns—I presume the latter will be preempted by the crowds of Japanese and Chinese waitresses, as they do now at the Judiciary building grounds. To establish the federal building on the whole block means the removal of a valuable block of the retail section, a section which we need very much."

NO EXTRADITION FOR SLAYER OF CHARLETON

NEW YORK, August 3.—The time limit for the extradition of Porter Charleston, the young American who killed his wife, Mary Scott Castle Charleston, at Maltrassio, Italy, June 9, placed the body in a trunk and threw it into Lake Como, has expired and the accused will not be extradited. Charleston has been in jail here pending extradition.

Charleston's father, a friend of the President, made a strong fight against extradition, and his work had its effect, to the extent that the Italian authorities did not persist.

ANDREWS AND COHEN REPLY TO INSINUATIONS

(From Wednesday Advertiser.)

It is still the silly season in politics. Otherwise a newspaper with any sense of proportion would not continue to decorate its front page with Achi and Wise interviews concerning "plots" and "intrigues" and other horrors of the imagination. Yesterday's sensation consisted in the publication of a number of charges against Lorrin Andrews and J. C. Cohen, with the editor of The Advertiser implicated.

If it were not for the fact that there are two or three of the presumed leaders among the liquor men of Honolulu still determined to force the liquor question into politics, in an endeavor to control both the Republican and Democratic organizations, the charges would not be worth replying to, coming as they do out of the mouths of discredited men and appearing in the columns of a newspaper so approachable as the one printing them.

Those who are able to read between the lines appreciate the fact that this is the last kick of the old gang, the gang that put yellow dogs of the Kaa-Molt-Wise complexion on the ticket last election and split the party open. Generally supposed that the Bulletin was preparing to follow the scent of "Lorrin" moneybags into the fold of the "K" party, to go along with the Achi and Cohen combination, accordingly, no other way can its present head be toward the appointed head of the Republican party be accounted for.

Yesterday, in the yellow dog organ, Wise makes a number of accusations against Andrews, which Andrews answers in the following statement:

"The statements attributed to John Wise in yesterday's Bulletin are a mixture of truth and falsehood," he said. "I did have a conversation with Mr. Wise a few days ago in which the sum of one hundred dollars was mentioned as a monthly salary for him under the following circumstances:

"When I was first appointed by the territorial committee as assistant secretary in charge of the political affairs, it was stated in the newspapers that I was to have a Hawaiian assistant. Mr. Wise at that time called upon me and applied for the position, stating that he would be willing to take it for $100 a month.

"After a conference with the sub-committee of the central committee, I found that they did not care to allow so large a sum for a Hawaiian assistant, and it was stated that they did not think such an expense should be incurred until the real opening of the campaign, when the matter could be brought up again by myself, if I felt the need of such an expense. I explained this matter to Mr. Wise and the matter dropped. Some days after the plebiscite, I met Mr. Wise on the street in front of the postoffice. He said he was doing nothing, and asked me if I knew of anything in sight for him. I stated to him that the position of Hawaiian assistant for the territorial committee had never been filled, that we would shortly open Republican headquarters; that I would submit the matter to the treasurer of the central committee if he wished, and see if I could obtain the position for him if he cared to accept it, and that if he called at my office within a few days we would talk the matter over. As he did not call, the matter dropped there.

"The conversation with Mr. Wise lasted only a few seconds. I never asked John Wise if the liquor interests of the city would stand by me to enable politics to be done, or made any statement to him concerning the liquor interests.

"The work that Mr. Wise was to do would have been the ordinary work in charge of headquarters beginning with the opening of registration.

"It is not true that Cohen or any other candidate has been supplying me with funds. The statement is ridiculous on its face. Mr. Cohen, like a great many other active workers in the Republican party, is often in consultation with me about political affairs, but neither he nor any other party candidate will or can say that I have agreed to deliver any nomination to him, or to any one, or that I have done more than suggest that they go out and ascertain their strength before the people, and that if nominated by the convention, would give them the best support in my power.

"I never asked Senator Achi to support Cohen or any other man for senator, but I did ask Senator Achi if he would support Judge Weaver for county attorney. I called upon Senator Achi as I have called upon numerous citizens for the purpose of ascertaining who, in their opinion, would best bring harmony to the Republican party.

Good Chance to Win.

"There is a splendid chance for Republican success, and the nomination of a clean, strong ticket by the Republican party, if the business men will assist in seeing that representative delegates be sent to the convention, and further if it is possible to weed from the Republican party a number of political parasites, who are only in the party for their personal gain, who have never been loyal to the party, and who are ready now to sell out if they can get any one to buy their services.

"It is from this faction that sees no future for it in the reorganized Republican party that the lies and garbled statements which have been whispered around the street for some time, and which now seem to be coming to a head have emanated, and in their desperation they can be counted upon to manufacture and invent any falsehood no matter how despicable to attempt to save themselves and hurt the Republican organization."

Cohen Involved.

Joe Cohen, whom the afternoon grammarian has consistently attacked in a sort of polite blackmail ever since he canceled his advertising contracts a year ago, is mixed up with Andrews in the charges made, the charge being, in short, that he diverted a portion of the money received by him as an anti-prohibition campaign fund and paid it to Andrews to secure a nomination as senator on the Republican ticket.

Cohen calls the charge a lie, just a simple lie, and lets it go at that.

In a statement to The Advertiser yesterday, Mr. Cohen says:

"Yes, I am a candidate for the senate, notwithstanding the fact that Achi and Wise are opposing me—and in answer to the statements made by these gentlemen I desire to say that it affords me a great deal of pleasure to hear that The Advertiser and Mr. Matheson are favorable to my candidacy.

"That Mr. Andrews and Mr. Matheson should both go out of their way to ask support for me is an honor that I highly appreciate.

"I want the support of every voter and depend upon my record in the last legislature to secure my nomination."

"The charge made that I am supplying Mr. Andrews with funds for which he is to deliver to me the nomination, is false, and while Mr. Wise states that it is so understood, I want to say right here that if Wise or any other man makes this as a direct assertion I herewith brand him as a liar."

"The charge that I made the assertion that I had the Republican party in my hands and was going to frame the platform is too ridiculous to answer.

"Wise states that the Hawaiians consider me nothing but a malihini and for that reason should combine to knock me out. If over twelve years' residence here leaves one a malihini and the fact that I worked for the Hawaiians in the last legislature by my efforts to defeat the Immigration Bill should cause them to knock me out, it is up to them to do it, and I will take my medicine, but I don't think that the Hawaiians will do so, at least not through the arguments of such men as Achi and Wise, whose opinions and party affiliations are always open to the highest bidder.

"Referring to the charge of Wise that I offered him $150 a month, I would ask: For what? My salary list now at the Orpheum is more than I can take care of comfortably and while Mr. Wise may be a good acrobat when it comes to making political flip-flops, still I don't see where he could make good for that amount of salary."

"The only reason I can account for Achi's opposition to me is that we are at issue on the immigration question. He knows I oppose immigration in its present form, as I consider it a big injustice to our Hawaiian labor."

"Undoubtedly, owing to pecuniary reasons not far to seek, he takes the other side, yet evidently dares not come out in the open and attack me on that issue, so he trumps up the old ridiculous charge about the band, which the band boys themselves have refuted."

"I want to say further that I am in hearty accord with the editorial appearing in yesterday's Advertiser in reference to the time being ripe for the business community to wake up and see that the management of party affairs is in the hands of those who represent the business interests of the community and not controlled by political renegades."

QUEBEC, August 3.—An attorney in London last night cabled to Dr. Hawley Crippen, who with his stenographer, Clara Leneve, was arrested here Saturday, when they arrived on the liner Montrose, on a charge of slaying his wife, Belle Elmore, that he had been employed to defend the dentist in the courts in London, and that the doctor's friends in the British metropolis had raised funds with which to conduct the defense.

The lawyer advised Crippen to keep silent, as any statement he could make might prejudice his case.

The attorney also advised Doctor Crippen to return to England without resisting extradition proceedings. Crippen is being held a prisoner in the local jail pending his extradition. He will be taken back to London on the first steamer sailing from this port.

The prisoner has shown little emotion since his arrest. Clara Leneve has been in the care of the jail physician ever since her arrest. She will be taken back with Crippen if her physical condition is good enough at that time.
